I will be doing a Shamballa unconditional love healing meditation at the Matrix practice group on Sunday 9/23/09. It is a free event.

Shamballa is a healing and ascension method that adds to your Matrix abilities. It clears blocks in our heart and other charkas so that more love energy can flow. This lets you doing healing work more powerfully and to feel connected to source more easily.

The main purpose of these clearings and initiations are for your own evolutionary development. As you evolve, you make it easier for the rest of humanity to follow in your footsteps. You help the collective consciousness— and unconsciousness— of humanity to expand and grow into the consciousness of Love. As a by-product, you may call upon the Shamballa energies to help facilitate healing, both your own and that of others.
