This Wednesday Sandbox gathering we join Whittney is learning new ways to pleasure your male's member.

Space is limited - Please RSVP here.

Do you love your Male's Member? Here's a way to show him. Bring your male, and his member, to learn new ways to stoke his... ego. The techniques you learn in this hands-on workshop are culled from a variety of teachings, relying heavily on Taoist techniques of male self pleasure (masturbation). Getting to the root of the matter, this class teaches physical techniques and breath work to get his whole body focused on what you are doing to him.

Participants are encouraged to prearrange who they will be partnered with for the class. Pairing up at the class is possible but not guaranteed. Paired participants must have at least one functioning penis between them for the active partner to practice on. Solo female attendees will be asked to find a partner or withdraw from the class. Solo male attendees may find a partner at the class or participate in the class practicing on themselves. (This class is hands on only - no voyeurs). This class is limited to 40 participants.

Please bring towels or mats to lay on for comfort and to help keep the space clean. Lots of massage oil (coconut oil) is used in this class so bring soap and a clean towel if you wish to wash up afterwards.
