Let your ideas explode into inspired action in the world, infographic from Dustin Lee on Paid to Exist blog which is about being paid doing thing you love.

I recently did this with my idea for a website to find Kundalini Yoga kriyas and meditations that solve a particular problem from among the 1000s that are available. I wanted a reverse index so that if I am looking for a meditation to help with being focused on work or coming up with new ideas I could find it. I created a wiki using the free Mediawiki <http://www.kundaliniyogapedia.org/> and am in process of seeding it with all the kriyas I know. But the action thing is I emailed yoga friends and businesses I know before it is ready for generate public for ideas and feedback. And I delegated entering the seed data to one of VAs before I have totally figured out how the site will work. I found I got more energy from doing this compared to all the months I had spent thinking about the idea with no action!

PS I am also a fan of Marie Forleo who is mentioned in the graphic . She is super passionate business coach who will often sign or dance in her video blog entries just for the fun of it!

WHY YOU NEED TO START NOW

Have you ever noticed that some people seem to have the almost magical ability to bring their ideas to life? Imagine how your life would change if someone was to tell you the secret to instantaneously making your ideas successful. How much would you pay for that? What if someone were to give you that secret for free? We're going to share that secret with you right now.

Start Thinking of Your Ideas Like Grenades

Really, they are. Think of your ideas as awesome grenades that, when used properly, can bring huge successes into your life and turn obstacles into smoldering piles of nothing. The key is to immediately take action.

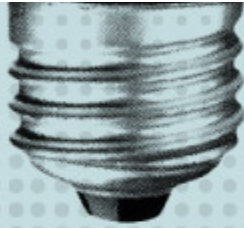

Pull the Pin

Taking immediate action on your idea, even if you feel like it's not totally developed, is like pulling the pin on a grenade. It begins the process that leads to your goals being realized.

Let Go

Once you pull that pin and take those first crucial steps, it's essential that you release it into the world. Putting your idea out there in front of real people makes it real and gives you the inertia to continue on.

Energize Your Idea

It all starts with an idea, but don't spend too much time trying to make it perfect. Once you've got a basic idea you need to take immediate action to make it real.

Don't Hold Onto Your Idea Too Tightly

Contrary to a great deal of common wisdom, ideas are not your most valuable asset. In fact, in many cases waiting for an idea can hurt you because you never actually start anything.

Don't Have All the Answers? Take Action Anyways Like these Successful Online Entrepreneurs.

The world is packed with examples of entrepreneurs that made a huge impact by taking action when they didn't have all the answers. In fact, a majority of the successful entrepreneurs around you started businesses in spite of pretty intimidating obstacles. Here are just a few examples.
